All aboard the Biodiesel Bus!

Monday, April 11th

Join us Monday, April 11th for the 2005 Southeast Michigan Biodiesel Bus Tour! Includes a special stop at the Grand Opening Celebration of Meijer's first public biodiesel fueling facility in Pittsfield Township!

In case you haven't heard, clean-burning biodiesel, made from domestic, renewable soybeans, is the hottest fuel on the transportation market today. With over 500 fleets logging over 55 million miles and counting, biodiesel's growth has been astounding! And now that the new tax laws have brought the price of biodiesel to at or below the price of regular diesel, there is no longer any reason to not use biodiesel. In this rapidly changing world, don't get left behind, get on the bus!

What you will learn:

The biodiesel bus tour will introduce you to key biodiesel facilities and players in Southeast Michigan: showing you where we are today, where we are going, and most importantly, why you should be using biodiesel!

Who should get on the bus:

You!! The 2005 Southeast Michigan Biodiesel Bus Tour is intended for anyone who is interested in learning more about biodiesel and the path of its use and development here in Michigan.

Where/When does the bus leave and return:

The tour will leave from the Michigan Farm Bureau Office located at 7373 West Saginaw Highway in Lansing at 7:30 am on Monday, April 11th; returning to Lansing at 5:30 pm. Lunch will be provided. Dress for the weather and wear comfortable shoes!

What if you can't make the day-long tour:

If you are unable to make the day-long tour, please consider joining us for the Meijer Biodiesel Grand Opening Celebration from 2 to 3 pm at the Meijer fueling station at 3995 Carpenter Rd, Ypsilanti.
